A GREAT COUNTRY.

Interesting Description of New Mexico by a Former Stanford Man.

(All rights reserved by the author.)

SAN MARCIAL, NEW MEXICO, July 2.

Many days have dawned and nights have dimmed the earth with shadows since I wrote a line for the I. J., and many letters come to me for something descriptive of New Mexico. Some have been replied to and others consigned to "a more convenient season."

First, let me say that agriculture here, save a very limited area that can be irrigated from the very few running streams, is out of the question and exists chiefly on paper and in the well-filled garrets of human anatomy, whose possessors prey upon the government's liberality for appropriations and upon enthusiastic minds through irrigation schemes to dispose of worthless, barren wastes. There are some privations and self-denials to be encountered and necessarily endured here; but nature in her inherent sense of justice and equity has provided some—aye, many very great compensations to off-set the advantages crowning other lands. The distribution, when calmly viewed, is perhaps in favor of this vast region known as New Mexico, which might more fitly be called "America." I am but returned from a protracted stay in the East and never before have I been so thoroughly impressed with the greatness, both present and future, of this country. For rest, real rest of mind and body, this is the one place in America where it is to be found unalloyed; for quiet repose and life gathering force, to store away like great storage batteries for future demand on brain and endurance, there is not a place on this globe the equal of New Mexico. Here, nature is both nurse and physician. A land where doctors starve and patients thrive; where ignorance is king and freedom his kingdom; where quiet reigns and rain is a luxury, where congeniality is unknown and extremes are cronies, where hardships are trifles and consequences are jokes, where people are severed and communities united, where gold is a medium and not the object, where idleness is popular and industry is self-indulgence, where wealth is common and poverty general, where accumulation is easy and ostentation contemptible, where caste is unregarded and circles unfilled. But this region with inviting welcome to the world and all its treasures open to seeking visitors, stands like the lonely (?) Solomon, to be visited and its glories enjoyed, but moves not its wealth or clime to wistful royalty or craving plebeian. The grasses wild, luxuriant, nutritious, its scenery grand, even sublime, its mineral store, are peculiarly its own and can not be moved by trust, combine or political endeavor to another section of the world. It is New Mexico's only. Just back from a trip across the plains to San Mateo (Saint Matthew) Mountains; the drive up there a gradual ascent of about 3,000 feet above this shady city on the Rio Grande, breezes fresh, invigorating and delightful. On the way, looking northward, one sees the "Floating Mountain," one of the most wonderful mirages of this land of mirages. It is a great mountain seemingly suspended between heaven and earth; can see under it, far on northward, the blue sky and all around it the outlines sharply defined, the clear, beautiful sky of this "Land of Blue Skies." Looking northwestward, the great Bald Mountain, high above the timber line, lifts its rugged summits if conscious of mountain supremacy, and like a great giant sentinel, towers above the typical Western mining town of Magdalena. While, east, on its very foot, and upward upon its slope and craggy side, is the bustling mining village of Kelley, alive with busy western energy and startled at regular hours with the roar of dynamite, shooting from their imbedded veins the rich ores of copper, lead and gold. Then to be seen on this drive of 30 miles, away to the south, some 40 miles, the Palomas Mountain, whose outlines against the distant sky bear a most striking resemblance to the profile of Grover Cleveland, the Benedict Arnold of the democratic party. It stands overshadowing the Palomas Hot Springs (on government reservation) where rheumatism and kindred ailments are absolutely eradicated in one to five days' plunging in its hot mud and water. A great resort for sufferers from far and near, without accommodations or improvements of any character; all visitors taking their own supplies of tents, provisions and blankets (the latter always needed in this climate at night. Oh, that the vast army of rheumatics of earth had access to these baths).

And then in every direction still may be seen the Osage, the San Andres, the Magdalena, the White Mountains (latter covered with snow nine months out of the year,) the Caballo (Spanish for horse; pronounced Ca-va-yo) and other ranges of mountains stretching their lines high up on the beautiful blue heavens. Up among the mountains at infrequent intervals, gush springs of water, cold and clear and 99 per cent. pure. Look again away to the east on this same 30 mile drive and see the distant range, 140 miles away, that hides behind it the ruins of Grand Caverna, a town whose history and the very account of its destruction is lost to all the divers into archives and legends. Many houses yet stand, as testimony that the populace lived in fear of some powerful enemy, as all were built with parapets and all entrances from the tops by means of ladders, drawn up after ascent and used for descent to the floors. That the unknown people of this village were surprised and killed is well evidenced by the fact that in exploring, their skeletons were found in groups, with skulls broken, limbs broken, men, women and children all treated alike, while in some few houses, as if clustered together for more available resistance, the skeletons of men were found with the same evidence of violence upon them. Much search and speculation as to who these people were, and by what people surprised and killed, has not brought one single proof to light; nothing but the unsatisfying surmise is extant. Again on this drive, draw down the gaze nearer and see a great, open volcanic crater with a broad stretch of lava boulders spread some seven to 10 miles wide and about 20 miles long, a black, rugged rendezvous for bats, serpents, centipedes and tarantulas. The Mexican name for this volcanic deposit is "Mal Pais."

Driving on, we come to the San Mateo Range, about 60 miles in length and rich in mineral, almost altogether free milling gold with a small percentage of silver admixture. The veins of ore are all true fissure veins, solid, well defined and of such thickness as to not necessitate the handling of any waste or "country rock." Here in the foot hills of this range is the mining village of Rosedale, nestled in a beautiful and picturesque valley at an elevation of about 7,500 feet above the sea level, with mountains reaching 800 to 1,000 feet above the valley where the camp is located. Climb these mountains up past the stormy peaks that are shut up and out from their sides, on and up beyond the clouds, look down upon the cloud's tops all purple and gold from the sunlight above the mountain summits, while the clouds are spraying and drenching the purple and yellow carpet of wild flowers on the hill sides and valleys below. The clouds hurriedly drift on and one has a view painted upon memory's faithful tablet that time, vicissitudes and changes can not erase. Take these scenes with that of the Floating Mountains and the thousands of sheep pastured upon the plains and seen again from mountain summit in great separate herds stretching out in straight and curved lines, grazing on wild grasses and wild flowers, all under you and far below you, moving steadily onward and onward like some vast army deployed for battle, marching with force in front and strong reserve corps in the rear upon the waiting lines of as great a foe. Get the rich perfume of the wild flowers spiced with the odors of spruce and pine, thrown out in grateful recompense for the refreshing shower. Look well and long at the scene, every minute, every hour it is more interesting, more captivating until it becomes enchanting. No artist can paint the picture, no canvas, no plate of kodak or camera can reproduce it, no pen can describe it, no one can comprehend all its beauty and grandeur. It is God knocking with nature, the attempts of artists at the sublime. I have sometimes wondered if after all, the very Garden of Eden was not hidden away among these mountain ranges. But if so, Adam, "manlike," in his selfish greed, must have eaten the apple seeds with the fruit, for no wild apples or anything of so domestic a semblance is found here. Though now and then an apron may be seen, but whether of the pattern and style of fickle Eve's, I can not say, but am positively persuaded, not of the same fabric, nor put together by the same contrivance. The style and fabric of hers seem to have been long since discredited though in some modern, fashionable circles the necessity for aprons of greater dimensions is nearly as great as it was when she established the first apron factory. The people here are from everywhere, except the native race, whose lines of kinship are lost in the labyrinth of intermarriages for centuries. The girls are married at the age of 12 to 16; are aged at 25, are quick, bright and vivacious in their teens and discontented at 20. Some intermarry with Indians, a few with Negroes. Their annual feasts are to them great carnivals of alternating worship, dancing, gambling and other past-times and pleasures. Naturally, they shrink from advancements as innovations upon their rights and customs, shrink from all Americanisms, though marriage with Americans is not unusual, but generally confined to male Americans with female natives. American girls who come out here as help are generally quickly married to ranchmen and other Americans engaged in other vocations.

Yours,

L. M. LASLEY.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Mary, the pretty and accomplished little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Staggs, gave her friends a most delightful party on the evening of the 7th, in honor of Misses Louise Oldson, of Roanoke, Ala., Carrie Edwards, of Los Angeles, and Elizabeth Cabbell, of Lebanon.

Miss Mary, the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Routen, who has been ill for some months, passed into the great beyond on the 5th and was hurried here on the 7th in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. She was a devout member of the Christian church and her life was a bright page in the Master's cause.

Miss Catherine Alcorn has returned from a four weeks' stay in Chicago, where she was the guest of her sister, Miss Mattie, who returned with her.

Carlisle Alcorn arrived home Sunday from Oakdale, where he is engaged with the C. S. engineers, on double track work. Miss Lucy Alcorn, of New York, will arrive this week to attend the annual family reunion and spend her vacation.

A veritable water spout on Friday afternoon did great damage along Carpenter's Creek, three to four miles west of here. Bridges, fences, live stock, vehicles, homes and crops were victims of the madly rushing waters that receded almost as rapidly as they came. The home of Henry McKinney was flooded, greatly damaging his new furniture on the first floor, which was left covered with mud several inches deep, while Mr. McKinney and wife took refuge in the second story.

Misses Georgia and Prille Newbern are at home from Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Goode are with relatives in Lexington. Mrs. C. P. Brown has gone to Lebanon to visit. Miss Pratt Hodden, of Georgetown, is with the Misses Cunningham. George W. Wash, formerly a prosperous merchant of our city, speaks in the loudest praise of the spirit of progress evidenced in our city since he left. After leaving here 16 years since, he graduated in medicine and is now the leading physician in his Kansas home.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brinson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. Price 50c.

"This wine," said Mr. Bluffer proudly, "has been in my cellar for 30 years. Mr. Knauer, who is something of a connoisseur, sipped his portion critically. 'I don't wonder,' he murmured. Cleveland Leader.

of Mercer county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Is a candidate for Representative of Lincoln county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The immense amount spent in advertising is shown in a recent bulletin of the United States census bureau. During 1905, $145,531,811 was invested in advertising in this country. That there is an intimate connection between these figures and the phenomenal prosperity of the nation, no sane man will deny. Every day last year 19,624,737 copies of daily newspapers brought into touch those who sell and those who buy—one copy for every family in the country. It is safe to assume, in view of the thoroughness with which the newspapers cover the continent from the Gulf to the Lakes, that there was less waste in the expenditure of that $145,531,811 than in the purchase of any other of the multiple forms of publicity that keep the wheels of Uncle Sam's industries turning.

At a meeting of the democratic county chairman of this congressional district at Nicholasville Friday afternoon it was decided that a primary be held Sept. 1 to nominate a candidate for Congress. The entrance fee was fixed at $750 and no announcement can be made later than Aug. 17. Fitting resolutions on the death of State Central Committeeman Richard W. Miller were passed but no successor to that gentleman was elected. Mr. John Sam Owsley, Jr., of this place, was given a complimentary vote for committeeman. E. B. Hoover, of Jessamine, J. A. Sullivan, of Madison, and Wilkes Morgan, of Anderson, were also voted for for the place.

At York, Pennsylvania, the citizens have notified the railroads that no Negro excursionists shall be unloaded in that city, making dire threats both against the roads and against the Negroes if they are. Let it be remembered that this "outrageous" demand is made by people who are supposed to love the Negro like a brother. Here in the South the whites let the poor Negro "excuse" all he wants to.

Your Cousin Carrie Nation is up against the real thing now. A warrant is out for her for using the mails to disseminate obscene matter. A recent issue of "The Hatchet" contained a lecture to young men and boys in which Mrs. Nation used very plain language. The old lady may smash windows and laws generally, but when she runs up against Uncle Sam there is sure to be something doing.

COL. LUMPKIN, finding that he was up against the real thing, more real since his strong fight for the rate bill, has withdrawn from the race for United States Senator against Senator Tillman. The Colonel seems to be a man of sufficient anagosity to fill a seat in the Senate some of these days.

NEXT to the wife-beater comes the horse-beater, and it is to be regretted that we have one or two in this community, says the Harrodsburg Herald, but we can not add our amen. Strikes us the next meanest man to a wife-beater is a "dead-beater."

ATTORNEY GENERAL HAYS addressed a handful of democrats at Flemingsburg Saturday. Mr. Hays thinks he is in the race for governor, but the impression prevails that he is badly mistaken.

POLITICAL.

New York Democrats are booming Charles A. Towne for second place on the ticket with Bryan.

Richard Croker announced in Dublin that he is for Bryan for President and not for Roosevelt, as reported.

Friends of John D. White say that he will shortly announce his candidacy for Congress in the Eleventh district.

E. B. Hoover, of Nicholasville, announced that he will not seek the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Eighth district.

Col. W. W. Lumpkin has withdrawn from the race for United States from South Carolina. This leaves the field clear for Senator Tillman's re-election.

The Louisiana House of Representatives adopted a resolution recommending the endorsement of William J. Bryan by the Democratic party of that State.

Representative Charles A. Towne, after a Western trip, stated that Bryan's hold on the people has grown wonderfully, and that there is a general demand for his nomination.

W. J. Bryan has written to former Senator James K. Jones that he is satisfied with private life and does not care to run for the presidency in 1908 unless the conditions seem to require it.

President Roosevelt, through Secretary Loeb, declined the invitation to preside at the Bryan anti-trust meeting in New York, announcing that he will make no engagements during his summer rest.

A public reception was given Senator Dolliver by the people of Fort Dodge, Ia., in recognition of his work on the Railway Rate Bill. President Roosevelt contributed a complimentary expression.

The socialist party of Colorado held a convention at Denver and nominated a full State ticket, headed by William D. Haywood, secretary and treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, now in prison in Idaho, for Governor.

Hon. James D. Black, of Barbourville, was in the city yesterday on legal business. Mr. Black is a Democrat in a section that it costs something to be, and he has never failed to advocate the principles of his party whenever occasion required. Though his legislative district is densely Republican, he was elected to the Legislature a number of years ago, that being the only office he ever held. He was a candidate for Governor two years ago but withdrew in the interest of harmony. Friends are urging him now to announce for Attorney General, but he has not made up his mind fully on the subject. He is a splendid lawyer and would make an admirable legal representative of the proud old State.—Frankfort Journal.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

E. N. Kimberlin, aged 24, is dead in Washington county of typhoid fever.

Willie Merritt was killed by an overturning wagon while logging in Casey.

William Walker, aged 73, is dead in the Sulphur Well section of Jessamine.

John J. McGee, one of the best-known young farmers of Mercer county, is dead.

Columbus Garrison was acquitted of the killing of Constable Wm. Bolton by a Pulaski county jury.

Miss Florence Jones, daughter of C. C. Jones, of the Yosemite section, died after a long illness of consumption.

Whitley county will vote on the whiskey question Oct. 6. A strong effort will be made to vote the saloons out of Corbin and Jellico.

Frank Ball, who escaped from the Richmond jail, has been located on the top of Kings Mountain, near the Madison and Estill line.

Liberty is now an incorporated town, the county judge having recently appointed officers to put the incorporation into effect: A. P. Young, police judge; E. H. Kidd, H. W. Phillips, H. W. Rains, J. R. Whipp and Jas. Cowden, town trustees.—News.

Sam Parker, a young attorney and college athlete, was shot and fatally wounded by Judge J. E. Fulton, at Helenwood, Tenn. Physicians from Somerset, who came on a special train, did everything possible to save his life, but without avail. Just before his death young Parker stated that Fulton had shot him without provocation.

MATRIMONIAL.

There were 3,100 weddings in Chicago in June.

William Jones, aged 24, and Miss Bertha Alcorn, 15, were married at Nicholasville.

George C. Gifford, of Casey, and Miss Roxie Eastham, of Pulaski, were married at Somerset.

Miss Olivia S. Sweeney and Prof. Howard A. Hoeming, of Lexington, were married in Louisville. The bride formerly lived in Lancaster and is a daughter of the late C. W. Sweeney.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth Melver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

If you want to rid yourself of that "tired feeling," try White's Concentrated Crab Orchard Water. It will do the work. For sale by W. B. McRoberts, G. L. Penny, W. N. Craig, Stanford, and C. W. Adams, J. G. Weatherford & Co., Hustonville J. W. Thompson, Kingsville.

Lyman J. Gage, rich Chicago banker and ex-Secretary of the Treasury, has cast his lot with the mysterious Theosophical Brotherhood of Southern California and will go there to live according to their customs, says a dispatch to the Chicago Record-Herald.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Miss Lucy Mahan, of London, is preaching at 10:30 A. M., and 8 P. M. at Hebron church this week.

Dr. E. M. Greene, of Danville, will preach at the Christian church Sunday night. Union services will be held with that church.

A successful revival conducted at the Baptist church in Monticello by Rev. A. H. Wright, of Nashville, closed last week with 15 conversions.

A protracted meeting will begin at Berea on July 24. Rev. J. Q. Montgomery, of Liberty, will assist the pastor, Rev. Brewer, in conducting the services.

War Against Consumption.

All nations are endeavoring to check the ravage of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in a yellow package. Penny's Drug Store.

WATTERSON'S PAPER

Weekly Courier-Journal

.....AND.....

The Interior Journal

BOTH ONE YEAR FOR

ONLY $1.50.

Few people in the United States have not heard of the Courier-Journal. Democratic in all things, fair to all things, clean in all things, it is essentially a family paper. By a special arrangement we are enabled to offer the WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL one year and this paper for the price named above. Send your subscription for the combination to us—not to the Courier-Journal.

THE FAIR!

Will call for wearing apparel, combining both

Style and Comfort.

We have made a special effort to be in condition to do this. How well we have succeeded can be seen by letting us show YOU our

Two-Piece, Double Breasted, Long Coat Suits,

A Panama or Porto Rican Hat, a Patent Low Shoe, with gauze Hose; a Soft Shirt, with collar attached, or White Pleated Shirt, with cuffs attached; with Shepherd Plaid or Blue Polka Dot Tie; Black or Tan Belt, and you are dressed in perfect taste and comfort.

WANTED, to exchange $10,000 stock of goods for farming or timbered land. Address Lock Box 24, Somerset.

THE banks will close at noon during the fair. Attend to your business with these institutions in the mornings.

THE 24 shares of First National Bank stock sold by J. S. Owsley, Sr., executor of Mrs. Mary J. Miller, yesterday, brought $138.25. William Cordier sold six shares at $135 to $137.25.

PRICE WILL LIKELY RUN. - Mr. R. G. Evans, who was here from Danville yesterday, told us that his relative, Mr. William J. Price, would likely make the race for Congress and that he thought his formal announcement would appear in a few days. Mr. Price is very popular in this county and will get a good vote.

GENTRY. - At 11 o'clock last evening at his home on the Bluegrass pike, Mr. Thomas B. Gentry passed away after a lingering illness of heart trouble, during which he endured much suffering. Deceased was 43 years of age and leaves a wife, who was Miss Susie Gentry, of Lincoln county, and one son, Julian, who was eight years of age. He was the youngest son of the late Peter Gentry, one of Boyle county's most substantial citizens. - Advocate.

Mr. Gentry's widow is a sister of Mr. C. V. Gentry, of this place.

MR. H. D. ALDRIDGE had a valuable horse killed by a train Sunday night.

TAKE a look at the 5 and 10c glassware at Mrs. W. S. Jones' restaurant.

FOR RENT. - The store-room on Lancaster street just vacated by Garland Singleton. Apply at this office.

THE county committee, by a vote of 4 to 3, decided to postpone until some time next year the naming of a candidate for Representative.

WILL MERRITT, colored, died of lock-jaw Sunday night. He was hurt while getting out rock for J. R. Beazley's crusher several days ago.

If you love honey, buy some of Mr. J. M. Ware, of the Saulley section. He has some 2,000 pounds of his "own raising" which is as fine as mortal eyes ever created upon.

MRS. HAN SMITH, of the Maywood section, sends us word that she has new Irish potatoes so large that it is necessary to cut them in two in order to get them into a cooking vessel.

OLYMPIAN SPRINGS is now open for the treatment of rheumatism, nervousness, indigestion, constipation, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. Best of satisfaction. F. M. Sims, prop'r.

A PETITION with 1,166 names was filed with the county clerk yesterday calling for an election on the whisky question in this county on Sept. 12. This was the extent of the business done in the county court.

MISS EVA BAILEY will go to Europe with the Courier-Journal crowd and will start Thursday. She sold 195,000 ballots at $3 per 1,000 to the other contestants and will pay her own way and then have money to spare.

JOE JAMES, little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pettus, died Sunday of tuberculosis and was buried at Crab Orchard yesterday morning. He was a bright little fellow and his parents are almost crushed over their loss.

THE beautiful colt J. R. Beazley paid W. A. Tribble $100 for had one of its legs badly cut while in the pasture Sunday. Mr. Beazley was shaping the little fellow up to show him at the fairs, but of course will not show him now.

JIM JOHNSON, said to be a Junction City product, created considerable excitement yesterday afternoon by riding through town at a break neck speed yelling like a Camanche indian. He was arrested and placed in jail. His trial will be held this morning. There were a large number of drunks yesterday.

HAVING sold our stock of groceries and hardware to L. R. Hughes, we take this opportunity of thanking the public for past favors and request a liberal patronage for our successor. We also request that all those owing us will call at the store and settle at once as we are bound to wind up our business. P. G. Warner & Son.

STORE BURNED. - Keeney & Clements' big store at Middleburg burned Sunday night, together with all of its contents, consisting of a good stock of general merchandise, a lot of drugs, etc. The post-office, Mrs. Geo. W. Drye, postmaster, was kept in the store and all of the mail and Stamps went up in the flames. The loss on Keeney & Clements is very heavy, as they had not a cent insurance. The fire begun up stairs but it is not known how it originated.

THE FAIR. - Everything is in readiness for the fair which begins Thursday and continues over Friday and Saturday. The prospects are flattering for an immense crowd and the best show of stock ever seen on this side of Kentucky river. Besides the show rings, there will be three big free attractions each day, several side shows will give a change of program every hour and Storms' Military Band will "soothe the savage breast" with the sweetest of music. Something will be doing all three days and the fun will be fast and furious. Make your plans to come and let nothing stop you. Remember the circus will stretch its tent on the fair grounds and you can spend a couple of hours very pleasantly seeing the wonderful features of it.

THE fair, the fair! Don't forget the fair.

YESTERDAY was the dullist July court in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

LOST, between Stanford and Mrs. Hall's, on the Crab Orchard pike, a pair of gold spectacles. Leave at this office.

FOR SALE. - Ginseng patch. 300 seed-bearing plants and 50 or 60 small plants. Also 3,000 seed. A. P. Brackett, Stanford.

ALL stock in the Lincoln County Fair Association not paid for by July 11th, will be cancelled. J. F. Cummins, secretary.

Do not fail to see W. H. Mueller, the jeweler, if in need of solid silver spoons, forks, knives etc. Largest line ever carried.

LET Dee Turner care for your horse at the Stanford Fair. He has the hitch and feed privileges and will care well for him.

A high dive, a slide for life, a balloon ascension and a circus should draw a crowd to the Lincoln county fair, which begins here Thursday and continues three days.

ELD. JOSEPH HALLOU will speak at the court-house next court day. Hon. Fontaine Fox Bobbitt, who was to have spoken yesterday, decided to wait until August court to entertain his friends and admirers.

DRIFFING SPRINGS has a good crowd, Manager Fisher informs us, and more will arrive this week. Mrs. C. R. Coleman and Mr. Earl Coleman and Mrs. Annie Engleman and Misses Sue Taylor and Bessie Woods Engleman have joined the crowd at that place.

To the City Council, Street Committee or Chief of Police: The INTERIOR JOURNAL and Stanford's 2,000 citizens would be very thankful if a little cleaning up, weed cutting and filling up of holes was done to-day and to-morrow. There will be visitors here by the thousands Thursday, Friday and Saturday and for goodness' sake don't let them think that Stanford's city fathers have all died or resigned. Let's put the best foot foremost and send our guests away singing psalms of praise of Stanford and her good people.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Conviction.

When Maxine, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of trial was therefore a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

The jury which will try Judge James Hargis and Ed Callahan on the charge of instigating the murder of J. B. Marcum was selected and sworn Saturday at Beattyville and the opening statements were made yesterday. The Commonwealth insisted on a continuance because of the absence of Judge Theodore Lewis, but the court believes Judge Lewis will be present. The jury is composed entirely of democrats and all but two are substantial farmers.

Saved His Comrade's Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Houghland, of Elgin, Iowa. "I gave him Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe saved his life. I have been engaged for 10 years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by Stanford Drug Co.

South Dakota has a female base ball umpire.

CORN CURE.—Corn Eit will positively remove corns in four days. The treatment is simple and pleasant and we absolutely guarantee to refund the money to each and every customer whose corns are not promptly removed with entire satisfaction. A bottle of this great preparation only costs 15 cents and nothing if a perfect cure is not speedily effected. G. L. Penny, druggist, Stanford, Ky.

Was In Poor Health For Years.

Ira W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: "I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it was the cause of restoring the health of others." Refuse substitutes. Penny's Drug Store.

Aaron McCabe, the Negro who killed a white man in Lexington several weeks ago, was given the death penalty.

A Hard Lot

of troubles to contend with, spring from a torpid liver and bloated bowels, unless you awaken them to their proper action with Dr. King's New Life Pills: the pleasantest and most effective cure for Constipation.
